

Afternoon
Tea

Afternoon tea is a long established English pastime and nowhere is more synonymous with the royal heritage of this British tradition than Eastwell Manor.

Once home to Queen Victoria's son, Prince Alfred, our estate was one of the first to serve afternoon tea to aristocratic guests. A lifelong friend of Anna Maria Russell - the Duchess of Bedford, who is credited with creating this English pastime – Queen Victoria is said to have feasted upon small fancies and sipped from china cups in the very same Manor House in which you are seated today.

With specialty teas, fine finger-sandwiches, hand-crafted cakes and warm crumbly scones smothered in fresh clotted cream and locally sourced fruit jam. We invite you to tantalise your taste buds with an afternoon tea fit for royalty.
